Warner Elected President In Record Vote

Legal Technicality Bars Bill Cantwell From Council Post

● THROUGH AN announcement published last Thursday noon over the signatures of Dr. Burnice Jarman, chairman of the Student Life Committee, and Fremont Jewell, president of the Student Council, the students of the University were officially informed that the Council had rescinded its previous action of permitting write-in votes for the position of president of the Student Council. The Council based its action on a legal opinion given by Acting Dean of the Law School Saul Oppenheim regarding the constitutionality of write-in votes.

Bill Cantwell, captain of the basketball team and a write-in candidate for the position of president, had already been informed of the opinion of Dean Oppenheim and had withdrawn from the presidential race through a phone call to Fremont Jewell.

There has been controversy over the candidacy of Cantwell, which had its beginning in the second meeting of the Election Qualifications Committee, held Thursday, April 8. At a previous meeting Cantwell was held to be unqualified according to constitutional requirements for candidacy. At the April 8 meeting this decision was appealed. The committee still felt that as the constitution stood, Cantwell did not qualify. However, the sentiment of the committee from the first had been that Cantwell had shown marked qualities of leadership, even though he had not participated in a major activity as defined in the constitution, or in two minor activities. The committee (See CANTWELL, Page 6)

WNBW Interviews Elizabeth Burtner

● WNBW, the National Broadcasting Company television station in Washington, will present an interview on modern dance with Elizabeth Burtner, of the University women's physical education department. The program will be broadcast Thursday from 7:05 to 7:30 p.m.

Demonstration of the polka by University students Tom Pence and Kitty Kileen will be a highlight of the program.

Inter-fraternity Council Prom Climaxes Greek Week Parties

● FRIDAY NIGHT, the IFC Prom, sponsored annually by the Interfraternity Council, will be given in the Grand Ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel. Dancing will be to the music of Frank Preston and his "All-Stars." This year the Prom is the climax to the Greek Week festivities, having as its theme, increased friendship and brotherhood among all the fraternities on campus.

The dance, which is formal, will be attended by nearly all fraternity men on campus. During the evening, Gate and Key, honorary for "Greeks", will tap outstanding men for admission. Max Farrington, Director of Men's Activities, will also present the IFC scholarship cup and the Sigma Chi Foundation scholarship cup.

The preliminary dances held last Sunday were designed to acquaint fraternity men with each other, and enable them to make plans for the prom later on in the week. A

Summer Pre-registration Scheduled May 3; Registrar To Distribute Blanks Tomorrow

Goucher College Maryland, D. C. Conference Hosts

● GOUCHER COLLEGE, Baltimore, Maryland, was host to a group of students last Saturday from the University and other colleges in the District and Maryland on the occasion of the Model Pan-American Conference.

Each college represented at the conference acted as a delegate from one of the 21 Latin American Republics, and during the proceedings set forth the economic, strategic, and political desires of the country. The University delegate, Don Lubin, spoke for Argentina. Acting as his advisers were Natalie Smith and Yvonne Innes.

The University's participation was sponsored jointly by the Current Affairs Club and the World Government Seminar.

canvass of the houses where the tea dances were held revealed that they attracted a good number of men with their dates.

Tomorrow night, all fraternity men, alumni and actives, have been invited by the IFC to the Hangar Room at the Washington Airport for a stag buffet supper. Costs for the supper will be equally apportioned among the fraternities, according to the number of actives and pledges they have.

Thursday and Friday, in order to impress the fair sex, the IFC has decreed a Greek silence. The effect of such a rule is to forbid conversation, or even smiles, to pass between fraternity men and individuals of the opposite sex. The ban is to be lifted at six p.m. in order to allow men to call for their dates to the Prom.

Tickets for the Prom itself may be purchased from any IFC delegate.

● PRE-REGISTRATION for the first summer-school session will be held on Monday, May 3. This is the registration for all students currently enrolled in the University who plan to attend the first summer session. Registration for new or readmission students will be on June 1. Registration blanks may be obtained in the Registrar's Office, C-100, from 9:00 to 6:00 p.m. In order to eliminate rushes and lines, students now enrolled may obtain their forms in the Registrar's Office beginning Wednesday, April 23, through Saturday, May 1. Dr. Burnice H. Jarman, Registrar, asks that all students obtain the blanks and forms necessary for registration during that period and fill them in before May 1. This will eliminate the block-long lines of students waiting to receive these forms which are necessary before the registration procedure can be started.

The steps in registration are as follows:

STEP 1—Secure registration forms in the Registrar's Office.

STEP 2—Fill in all of the above forms.

STEP 3—All Junior College Students—

(a) See appropriate curriculum advisers in Gov. 101 and 102 to have program slips checked and approved. (Exception—Business Administration and Accounting go to Gov. 304).

(b) Take program slips as approved by advisers to Departments for recording and approval.

Other Students who need advice go directly to advisers and then to Deans.

STEP 4—Take forms as approved by Departments to appropriate (See REGISTRATION, Page 5)

Girls' Glee Club Rehearses Today

● REHEARSALS for the Women's Glee Club will be held Thursday, at 12:30 p.m. There will be a rehearsal for both men's and women's clubs on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. It is especially urged that all members attend these rehearsals, which are being held in preparation for the annual spring concert on May 1.

Veterans Should Cancel Leave Now If Remaining Here

● STUDENT VETERANS who do not want leave at the close of the present term, May 26, are reminded by the Director of Veterans' Education, Dr. Mitchell Dreese, to make such request immediately.

Letters (there are no special forms available) requesting no leave should be addressed to the Regional Office, Veterans' Administration, 1825 H Street, N. W. Veteran's name, address, C-number, and name of the University should be included. If this information is not sent, 15 day's leave will be automatically granted in order to facilitate the subsistence check mailing procedures.

Additional information may be obtained at 2029 H Street, N. W.

Senior Class Sponsors Debate By Student Political Groups

● UNIVERSITY Young Democrats will have the first and closing positions in the Senior Class student political debate tomorrow night in Room 1, Hall of Government, at 8:15 p.m., according to Chet Byrns, Senior Class president. Positions of the six debaters were chosen by lot by the representatives of the Young Democrats, Young Republicans, and the students for Wallace.

Dr. John W. Brewer, executive officer of the political science department, will be moderator. Student speakers for the Young Democrats are Charles Matthews and Johnny Graves, while the students for Wallace will be represented by Robert Segal and Marianne Liechtenstein. Speaking for the Young Republicans will be Dick Patch and Charles Pilzer.

It has been agreed by the three student groups that the first 45 minutes of the debate will be devoted to a discussion of the merits

William Wendt, Student Council Advocate, announced the final returns at the Post-Elections Dance in the Gym, which two hundred students attended.

Fraternities Issue Booklet Next Fall

● DESIRING TO present a picture of fraternity life at the University, representatives from the fraternities on campus are preparing a booklet to be published next fall under the supervision of the Interfraternity Council.

Editing the booklet are Jack Connolly, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Willis Fitzgerald, Delta Tau Delta; and Tom Smith, Sigma Phi Epsilon. Business manager is Harold Hart, Phi Sigma Kappa, and copy editor is Jim Reisch, Pi Kappa Alpha.

of the parties and of any particular candidate, with each of the six speakers being allotted seven minutes. A 30 minute period following will be used for a debate among the members of the panel, and the final 30 minute period will be given over to a discussion from the floor. Only students of this University may be speakers, although the discussion is open to the public. This student debate is not the same as the political forum to be held in Lisner Auditorium on April 27. It is a forerunner of the main affair, and is being sponsored by the Senior Class.

Kappa's Elect

● OFFICERS of Kappa Kappa Gamma installed recently were Julie Halloran, new Kappa president; Robbie Lush, vice-president; Anne Diffenderfer, treasurer; Mickey Newcombe, recording secretary.

Keep It Clean

• WAIT A MINUTE! Think before you drop that cigarette butt on the floor! You're making things tough for the entire University!

• Multiply that dropped butt by hundreds of other students who smoke in classrooms and you have a sizeable sweeping job for a janitorial staff already overworked by the heavy cleaning demands of a large institution.

Requests come into the Business Office almost hourly to "sweep such-and-such office" or "dust such-and-such classroom." These are all in the line of duty for the janitorial staff under normal conditions. But when the thoughtlessness and carelessness of students cause an additional burden in sweeping up lunch wrappings, waste paper, cigarette butts, and ashes, the normal cleaning schedule is slowed down proportionately. Consequently certain cleaning tasks must be postponed until the work load is caught up.

We wonder seriously if the work ever will be caught up, as day after day students continue to be inconsiderate in disposing of their cigarette butts and trash.

This problem is one which cannot be solved by any one person. Rather it will require the concerted effort of every student who sets foot in a classroom. The request is simply this (and we ask your wholehearted cooperation): Beginning today, please deposit all personal waste paper in the proper receptacles, and please refrain from dropping cigarette butts on the floor, if you have a professor who doesn't enforce the "No Smoking in Class" regulation!

Remember, 100 cigarette butts disposed of properly by 100 different individuals can be done in a fraction of the time it takes one janitor to sweep up those same 100 cigarette butts scattered around the classrooms!

Cantwell Committee

• IT IS EXCELLENT to note that President Marvin, following last week's election chaos, has said he would appoint Bill Cantwell head of a committee to recommend changes to the Student Council.

Cantwell is familiar with the facts... he has been presented the student's point of view and he has seen the faculty's position. It is obvious that he is the man for the job.

Have You Met...

Joe Koach

• DO YOU NEED an after dinner speaker at your club's next banquet? Or perhaps a modern dancer? Or a script reader? Or an alert social committee chairman? If so, ask for Joe at the Kappa Alpha house.

The KA's will immediately have you shaking hands with Joe Koach. You'll find Joe spent his early life around Windber, Pennsylvania—it's near Pittsburgh. The glee club instructor at Windber High loved Joe for his tenor voice. Then it happened—as it does to all growing boys... Joe's voice changed; so Joe's activities changed, too. He joined the Hi-Y Club and later was elected social committee chairman of the Student Government Committee.

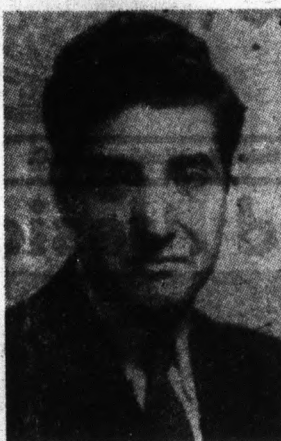

After almost a year overseas in 1942, Joe was brought back "stateside," to quote him, and went to John Carroll University in Cleveland under the Naval R.O.T.C. program. There he sandwiched the editorship of the "John Carroll News" and active affiliation with the Scientific Academy along with the Navy's two-year pre-engineering program.

Joe liked college life and after his Naval discharge he enrolled at the University in June, 1946. In the two years, he's been on campus, Joe's found a lot of new friends and organization. A junior in Columbian College majoring in speech and dramatics, Joe finds many hours of diversion from his studies in the Debate Club, as a member of the Modern Dance Group, as a script reader in the Radio Workshop, and as a member of the G. W. Players. In the latter capacity he appeared in "Ladies in Hades" and "Agamemnon" and is now acting as the assistant stage manager for their coming production, "Dark of the Moon."

Of course the headline story on Joe is his recent election to the Student Council as Social Chairman. "I hope to organize all the social chairmen of all campus organizations," he told us recently, "and through this group develop the spirit that was displayed on the campus last week. I think that demonstration is proof that the students here merely need something to work for. I intend to continue to have projects and events that will build up the University's extra-curricular program."

Although upon graduation he plans to work in a speech clinic—a speech pathologist no less—Joe has had numerous and varied jobs outside the professionalized realm which he may fall back on; such as, gas station attendant, pall bearer, and slot machine operator. We feel sure, however, regardless of the task Joe sets out to do, he'll be a success.

Oh yes, girls, please note: This being leap year, may we add that Joe's unmarried, is tall (not too), dark, and handsome, 24 years old—and is not a misogynist (woman-hater, that is). We're told he's a very smooth dancer, too, and with all those speech courses Joe's taken—what a "line" he's developed! Line forms to the right, girls.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editors:

Below you will find the motion passed by the Student Council at a meeting 2:00 p.m. on Saturday the 17th of April:

"The incumbent Student Council wishes to notify the incoming Student Council that all revisions to the Student Council constitution are being left in their hands."

"The incumbent Council would also like to go on record as strongly recommending the immediate and serious consideration of those questionable provisions as disclosed in the recent elections."

Sincerely yours,

FREMONT H. JEWELL,
President.

If Cantwell assists the Council in this essential undertaking, the election, with its record school spirit activity, was a success. But it is urgent that President Marvin, Cantwell, and the Student Council work in unison to make effective changes.

It's On The Record

By FRENCH CRAWFORD SMITH

• NOW THAT spring is here and the concert season is over it is time to take stock. The National Symphony has enjoyed a fairly prosperous season albeit it has not reached its goal in the drive for sustaining funds. The standard, familiar works have been presented again and again and the Symphony has offered several new or seldom-heard works as part of its musical menu.

Its chief critic bewails the fact that the Symphony's programs have not been stacked with Creston and other contemporaries. Perhaps he was not listening when Rubinstein commented that he was playing "for the majority" and berated critics for setting themselves up as "spokesmen for the five of six true music lovers in a community!" We do not mean to say that the public refuses to listen to new music and, thus, should be pampered. We do firmly believe, however, that the public must acquire a liking for a new composition in much the same way that it learns to like olives—it is purely a matter of conditioning, a very slow process at best.

The programs that have been announced for next year sound promising. It is interesting to note that Walter Giesekeing has been dropped from the list of next year's Symphony soloists. On the whole, the schedule is rather an ambitious one; Dr. Kindler and his associates have our best wishes.

The visiting firemen, that is to say the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Boston Symphony, played to capacity houses at each performance. Both of these outstanding orchestral bodies deserve caustic criticism concerning their programs: Tchaikovsky, Tchaikovsky, and—oh, yes—Tchaikovsky! They, unfortunately, apparently want to ride along on the theory that Washington audiences must be "played down to." Is there no happy medium?

THE SOLO CONCERTS, generally speaking, were not rip-roaring financial successes. The artists who are film luminaries, or who are otherwise subjected to the glare of klieg lights, were the delight of the local impresarios: Eddy, McDonald, and Iturbi—to name a few—really packed them in. On the other hand, the more sterling performers met with indifferent box office success. Jan Peerce, Lotte Lehman, et al, barely made ends meet. Piatigorsky and Nathan Milstein, disappointingly, played to the local cellists and violinists and, of course, the critics.

There are several reasons for this phenomenon. The "dollar butter and eggs" situation certainly had its effect. People are a bit more cautious when tossing their mad money around. Among other things, night club attendance has fallen off. We cannot discount the great number of recitalists presented. This was perhaps the largest aggregation of musicians ever to appear in Washington in one season. Consider that, in the space of about a month, three of the Metropolitan's top tenors—Peerce, Melton, and Tagliavini—appeared. Had it not been for his illness, Jussi Bjoerling would also have been among those present. All of these plus violinists, sopranos, pianists, and symphony concerts, too!

From an artistic standpoint, we saw little growth in this season's programs. The movie clique insulted the intelligence of the "music lover" and, yet, was literally mobbed. Those who built more worthwhile programs based upon their own artistic standards rather than their record listings met with so-so success. Unfortunately, these are the artists who probably won't visit us next year.

THE OUTLOOK next year: We can look forward to a bigger and better National Symphony. We can pray (and that's about all) for more intelligent programs from visiting orchestras. Last of all, we can hang our heads in shame because many of the better performers are going to side-track us because of the cold shoulder they received at the box office this winter.

Washington music lovers mourn the sudden death of C. C. Cappel, local impresario, who died recently in Baltimore. Formerly a manager of the National Symphony, he was the originator of the Watergate Concerts. For years Mr. Cappel presented outstanding artists in Washington and Baltimore and was responsible for the interesting Meridian Hill Park concerts a few summers ago. His enterprising qualities and genial presence will be sorely missed in local music circles.

Free Chest X-rays

• WITH THE WASHINGTON Chest X-ray survey coming to the University campus the week of April 26-30, all University students should take advantage of the free service.

X-ray time for each individual will be one-half minute and reports will be sent out within three weeks. It is stated that 98 out of 100 will be notified that the X-rays show no tuberculosis, but the remaining two will be asked to have a second X-ray.

X-Ray Survey Scheduled

ALL UNIVERSITY students and faculty members are invited to participate in the Washington Chest X-ray Survey which will be conducted on the campus April 26 through 30, according to John R. Busck of the Public Relations Department.

This service, free of charge, is being sponsored by the District of Columbia Health Department, U. S. Public Health Service, and the D. C. Tuberculosis Association.

It is planned that each of the University's 130 student organizations will form a committee to encourage participation in this project. These committees will supply University students with cards to be filled out prior to the date set for the campus survey. The cards will enable participants to receive reports of X-rays and will also speed the service so that it will only take a half minute's time for each individual to receive his X-ray. If the cards are filled out at the time of the X-ray, it is estimated that it will still take only three minutes to complete each check-up. It is only necessary for the student to remove outer coats and jackets and any metal object in the shirt pocket, step up to the machine, and take a deep breath, as the picture is made!

The student should receive a report within two or three weeks. It is stated that about 98 out of 100 persons will be notified that the X-rays shows no tuberculosis. The remaining two will be asked to have a second X-ray because the first one discloses something that requires further study.

If the student has had a chest X-ray since January 1, it is not necessary to have another at this time, though it is a safeguard to have this done at least once a year, states the District of Columbia Tuberculosis Association. Tuberculosis is not inherited; it is a communicable disease and there are no warning signals in the early stages when it can be most quickly and easily cured. The student will, therefore, be wise to take advantage of the University survey which has been provided for by the Survey's School and College Committee. You will also make possible a complete picture of the tuberculosis problem in the District at this time which is important in planning a satisfactory tuberculosis control program.

Dr. Walter Emry Luncheon Guest Of Special Class

DR. WALTER EMBRY was the only non-speaking guest at a luncheon held Saturday by his class in Speeches for Special Occasions. The occasion was after-dinner speeches, and in order to give the situation reality the meeting was arranged.

Prime-movers in this step toward progressive education were Bob Block, Lucy Rumley, and Joe Koach, the committee chosen by the class to arrange the luncheon.

Adding to the uniqueness of the situation, McKee's Cafeteria was selected as the site, and Arch Harrison, a member of the class, acted as toastmaster; the professor, Dr. Emry, was the guest of honor, and contrary to form was the only person of the twenty who kept silent. The next assignment is a speech of eulogy... will they bury Dr. Emry?

Dr. Burnice Jarman Attends Convention

DR. BURNICE H. JARMAN, University Registrar, will attend the 34th Annual Convention of The American Association of College Registrars, which is meeting in Philadelphia at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel April 19-21.

Faculty Members Confer With Navy

DEAN JAMES H. FOX and Mr. Ruffner of the School of Education staff will be at Great Lakes, Illinois, during a training conference for officers of Naval Service Schools, from April 17 to May 1. They will be participating in a similar conference at San Diego from May 31 to June 12.

These are the second sessions scheduled at these locations under the Navy training program.

Book Describes Navy Nurses' Dietetics Class

"FOOD FOR The Navy," a 22-page booklet describing the University's training program in dietetics for Navy nurses, has just been issued by the University.

The booklet describes the beginning of classes in 1934, when the Navy Department determined that nurses acquainted with Navy routine and with nursing would be doubly useful on overseas and shore duty if given additional training in dietetics.

Courses were held every other year at first, for eight to ten Navy nurses, but after 1940 they were offered, with classes containing as many as 30 students. Under the auspices of the University Home Economics department, nurses completing the full year of training received 32 college credits.

Included in the curriculum were chemistry, physiology, foods, nutrition, meal planning, marketing, diet therapy, institutional management, food sanitation, quantity cooking, and diet preparation.

During the war, graduates of the course served afloat and ashore in every theater of operations. Two of them lost their lives in the line of duty, and one was taken prisoner of war. Others received decorations for their local service. One graduate, Captain Nellie DeWitt (NC) USN, is now director of the Navy Nurse Corps.

Chet Byrns M.C.'s Formal Sponsored By Newman Club

CHET BYRNS, president of the senior class, will be master of ceremonies for the "Campus Celebrities Capers" May 1. This all-University spring formal is sponsored by the Newman Club which will present the outstanding students on campus during the past year.

Invitations are now being accepted by outstanding students on campus. Among those who will attend are Fremont Jewell, 1947-48 Student Council president; Katrine Nell, Hatchet co-editor; William Cantwell, captain of the basketball team; Phil McNiff of the basketball team; Carl Butkas, captain of the football team; Peter Labukas and Don Druckenmiller, football team; Mary Olga Longley, Cherry Tree editor; and Lewis Booker—"Apollo."

All students of the University are cordially invited to attend. The semi-formal dance will be held from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Hotel Hamilton. Tickets are now on sale from 12-1 p.m. in the Student Club, or may be obtained by calling Alma Wyvill, Hobart 3523.

Garrett Is Prexy Of Alpha Theta Nu

PAUL GARRETT was unanimously elected president of Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship holders' club, at a meeting on April 15. Garrett succeeds Richard Scott in this office.

Other officers elected at this meeting include Mildred Campbell, vice-president; Sylvia Srika, recording secretary; Edith Venzky, corresponding secretary; and Wallace McNeel, treasurer.

During the meeting plans were discussed for the club's participation in the May Day festivities to be held here April 30. After registration in Strong Hall at 4 p.m., the high school students attending the Spring Festival will be taken on a tour of the University by members of Alpha Theta Nu. Invitations to the Festival have been sent to over 500 high school pupils.

'Dark of the Moon' Will Climax Players' Season Friday, Saturday

Emotions Mixed Concerning Public Music Controversy

By JOHNNY QUESTION-MARK

WE'VE BEEN reading with mixed emotions of the controversy currently raging among Washington's streetcar riding public. The argument, filling up the Letters to the Editor Department and occasionally pushing aside the Oleo scrap, is, "Shall we have music in our trolleys?"

While revolutions rage in Bogota, while Italians ponder on Spaghetti or proletarian caviar, while Quigley's burns, staid Washingtonians and music lovers are fighting it out. With our natural perspicacity we have taken a stand. We have cast our lot with the music-hungry strap hangers. Here's why.

Instead of labeling the various cars Seat Pleasant (an idle dream to begin with), Friendship Heights, or some other innocuous name, we would name the cars for the type of music they carried. To give you a for-instance, we could have "No. 30 Jive," "Waltz Time," with transfers to "Rhumba 55." The possibilities are limitless.

Another good point, no longer would frustrated Department of the Interior clerks fitfully brood on the long and crowded trip home. With music, they would, upon entering the car, immediately choose a partner and waltz dreamily back through the car, the nonce executing a lusty trepak with a Nijinsky or Pavlova exit through the automatic doors in three-quarter time. So what if there is crowding or pushing. You get the same thing on a night club floor and pay a lot more to boot.

Butchers might wish to zip home to the tune of "Sabre Dance," and leaving at pub closing time would be the "Sweet Adeline" to Takoma. Dance away the day with Rapid Transit and transfer to a Streetcar Named "Desire." Time marches on!

Surveyor Meets To Ratify Changes And Elect Editors

RATIFYING changes in the constitution and electing the editorial board for next year will be the main subjects of a meeting of the Surveyor staffs to be held Wednesday, April 21, at 8 p.m., Room 305, Hall of Government. Plans for getting out the next issue of the Surveyor will also be discussed. All active and inactive members of the Surveyor junior and senior staffs are urged to attend.

The main changes in the constitution concern the streamlining of the staff. If the changes are not ratified by those qualified to vote, new members will be elected to the board as it is now constituted.

Following the voting on changes in the constitution, elections will be held for the following board members: editor-in-chief, managing editor, literary editor, art editor, and associate editor.

Changes in the constitution and new members of the staff are to be made subject to the approval of the Publications Committee headed by Dr. Linton.

Tassels Nets $31 In CARE Drive

Tassels, sophomore women's honorary has announced the results of the penny drive which was held April 7 for the benefit of CARE. In all, $31.21 was collected by Tassels members. This is enough to buy three CARE food packages. These packages of food will be sent to needy students in Europe.

All money pledged to CARE by the various campus organizations should be in by May 1. The amount of total contributions to CARE for the year will be announced at that time.

"DARK OF THE MOON," under the direction of Edward Mangum of the speech department, will climax the University Players' first season Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner Auditorium.

Vigorous and richly humorous, the recent Broadway hit is the story of John, the witch-boy, played by Charles Vorbach, who falls in love with the lusty mountain gal, Barbara Allen, as portrayed by Zelda Fichandler. Stan Telchin, in the role of Marvin Hudgens, completes the romantic triangle.

The Conjur Man, John Burke in the Players' production, makes the witch-boy human on the condition that Barbara will remain true to him for a year.

Supporting cast members include Mazeppa King, as the Conjur Woman; Dorothy Ohliger, as the Dark Witch; Nancy Feyrer, as the Fair Witch; John Wilson, as Uncle Smellicue; and Henry Danilowicz, in the role of Preacher Hagler.

With the setting in the Great Smokies of North Carolina, production crews, under Sam Houston as master carpenter, have constructed Old Baldy Mountain for background. ## Spanish Club Has Business Meeting

EL CLUB ESPANOL will hold a business meeting Wednesday at 1 p.m. in Room A, Columbian House. All members are urged to attend.

• THE OTHER DAY down in Miami University, a pretty little co-ed was a wee bit stumped as to what to do with her deck of cards. Being on the initiative side, she fastened them to the under side of a table with scotch tape. The next day when she returned to get them she discovered that the tables had been re-arranged during the night by the janitor. At last reports she was still hunting for the table with her cards.

• VIA THE ALLIGATOR this joke comes to the inhabitants of G. W. . . .

Child (ending a prayer): And please make Ireland independent.
Mother: My dear, why ask such a strange thing in a prayer?
Child: I put it that way in a test.
(I wonder if it did do any good???)

• THINK YOU could stand another one? H-m-m-m??? This one, now, comes from Steven's Institute of Technology.

Jerry: My girl is going to wear a biblical gown to the formal dance tomorrow night.

Larry: What do you mean, biblical?

Jerry: Oh, you know. Sort of low and behold.

• THE AUTHOR of the column "Fitz and Misfits . . . by Fitz" dug up a couple of lulus for his column from the ACP bulletin.

"The prayer meeting was held at the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening."

"Young couple wants to rent furnished apartment—need large loving room."

• AT TEXAS Christian University, a teacher asked her class if any of them were interested in, or knew anything about the constellations. One of the males in the class volunteered the information that he had once danced with a movie star.

Who ever said that men were smarter than women?

• OUT OF THE MIAMI HURRICANE I snatched this one . . .

First Frosh: Will you take my sister to the dance?

Second Frosh: Is she good-looking?

First Frosh: I'll pay the expenses.

Second Frosh: Sorry, I've already got a date.

• SOME WRITER of some paper (my memory isn't any too good) wrote this-a-one:

Overheard in a night-club booth: "Hands off Columbus. You've discovered enough for tonight."

• THANKS TO THE paper of Rensselaer Polytech:

"This chain letter started in Reno in the hope of bringing relief and happiness to tired businessmen. Unlike most chain letters, this does not cost money. Simply send a copy to five equally tired male friends, then bundle up your wife and send her to the fellow at the top of the list."

"When your name comes to the top of the list, you will receive 16,167 women."

"Have faith. Do not break this chain. One broke it and got his wife back."

UIKE-CA Course Intrigues Everyone

By RANDY GORDON

• THIS WEEK, UIKE-CA takes up a subject that is near and dear to the hearts and minds (if they have one) of most of the students enrolled in the colleges of this area and others.

Under the title "How To Enable People to Take Your Exams" is a course that intrigues everyone but is not open to all comers. Only those people that chronically are called out of town, have grandmothers or cousins that die the day before exams, or just feel slightly sick the last few hours before the "final blow" is there, can qualify for such an intensive course as this one.

There are numerous and devious means and ways that this course can be taught. The angles considered are—the good friend, the genius, the "masked man," and the robot, among many others of this type.

Under the good friend type, we find our student, I. Will Flunk, talking to his best and most susceptible friend on campus the last few hours before exams. "I'll bet you could get at least ten or twenty points higher on this exam if you take it for me. The plan is very simple, etc., etc." And on he goes, outlining the final plans that he has made in order that his good friend can not only take his exam the next day, but make a good try at getting away with it. Usually the good friend gets about half way through the paper and then gets up, tears it up, and stalks from the room. He says to himself, "either I'm crazy or that guy must have been a pretty good talker." Upon sighting his friend, he usually precedes to tell him off, or else tears him to pieces in such an ugly manner, that we won't try to go into the details in this poor article.

Next we have the genius type. This fellow is usually a Phi Beta in his Junior year, holds a number of positions on campus, and still has time to run down to the nearest cubbyhole for a few hands of bridge between classes or leaves his exams a very few minutes after they start.

One of his erstwhile classmates approaches him the day before, and after a short talk with a lot of the ole smooth "oil" in it, he usually persuades him that he (the genius) can not only write his own exam and be finished in record time, but that he can write a second exam, and after appending the names of his dear fellow student, can still leave with enough time to meet him and enjoy a few rubbers of bridge.

The only drawback to this type is: the genius turns in such a good paper for the other student, and the mere fact that both of the papers resemble each other almost to a "T", add up to the conclusion that the prof usually gives the "fellow student" an automatic "F" for copying the genius's paper and promptly sees that he is thrown out of school.

On the other hand, we turn to the "masked man" or "do you want to act in my play, with you made up as me, and all the script written beforehand" type. The poor student that "just can't take this test" because this is the one that the final mark comes from anyway," sees to it that the "masked man" is made up to closely resemble him, with a small amount of cash and less of brains. The next day, he sends the poor fellow in and tells him to write the paper just as he has in the notes that were handed him, or better yet, to sit in the class a minimum length of time, with the exam all written out, and then hand in the specially prepared paper.

The only trouble with this situation is that either the heat in the classroom from the fevered brows are too much for the Plaster of Paris, which begins to melt and drip and the fellow is "unmasked" rather badly, or the prof stands over him during the whole test, so that he never gets to use the notes. Also the very nicely prepared exam situation is met, by the fact that the prof not only wonders what kind of monster is this that is coming in to take this exam, but that his suspicions are so aroused that he watches the "masked man" too closely and finds that he is only doodling instead of writing. (See our special course on the Art of Doodling, in the Fine Arts section of the catalog.)

The last but never the least type is the robot. After many patient years and weeks, the poor, exhausted student finally gets all the workings of the robot completed, and sends him into class to take the final and get it over with, while the student lies on the grass and suns himself. This mass of metal etc., goes in, but never does the right thing. He usually writes on the wrong subject or gets his wires crossed even more, and just sits. Consequently the poor student gets it in the neck again, and flunks anyway.

So our only advice is to get hold of one of these hypnotist and have him hypnotize you into studying your head off and go in there and flunk those old exams just the same.

Our next article will review the effects of a course in "Basic Pinball Playing." Until then, don't take any exams unless you have taken this course first.

Current Affairs Club Discusses Military Training and Draft

Full-time Vets Should Receive Subsistence Boost

• MOST VETERANS attending school full-time under the G. I. Bill will find increases in the subsistence check they receive on or about May 1, the Veterans Administration's Washington Regional Office reported today.

Subsistence allowances will be raised automatically from $65 to $75 for veterans without dependents and from $90 to $105 for those with dependents. Where an ex-serviceman has more than one dependent and has furnished the VA with proof of additional dependency, his allowance will be boosted from $105 to $120.

The increases are still subject to the ceilings of combined wages and subsistence of $175 for single veterans and $200 for veterans with dependents.

If proof of additional dependency is furnished the VA on or before July 1, the increases to $120 will be retroactive to April 1. If filed after July 1, the raise will date from the day of filing. Where proof is filed on or before this deadline, a lump sum covering any retroactive payments will be included in the first monthly check after the veteran's papers have been processed. Subsequently the veteran will draw $120 a month.

Proof of dependency, photostats or certified copies of the birth certificates of dependent children, should be forwarded to the Veterans Administration's Washington Regional Office, 1825 T Street, N.W. In the case of dependent parents, evidence of actual dependency must be submitted.

Veterans should make sure that each piece of evidence is fully identified with the individual's full name, correct address, VA "C" number, and the name of the school.

Veterans studying under Public Law 16 will not have to furnish VA any proof of additional dependency, since necessary evidence is already on file.

Westminster Foundation

• ELECTION OF OFFICERS will be held tonight at the regular meeting of the Westminster group at 8:15 in the Foundation Headquarters, 1906 H Street.

Religious Council

Sen. Owen Brewster To Speak At Forum

• UNITED STATES Senator Owen Brewster (Rep., Me.) will represent the Republican party at the Senior Class political forum in Lisner Auditorium, April 27, Senior President Chet Byrns announced this week.

Rep. Walter H. Judd, originally scheduled to appear, was forced by personal business to withdraw as the Republican member of the forum. The appearance of Senator Brewster was immediately arranged by the National Republican Headquarters.

Senator Brewster, a graduate of Bowdoin College and Harvard Law School, has been in public affairs most of his life. Lawyer, educator, member of the Maine State Legislature, Governor of Maine, Senator Brewster entered national office in 1934 when he was elected to the House of Representatives. The Maine Republican was twice re-elected to Congress and in 1940 his state sent him to the U. S. Senate.

In 1946 Senator Brewster was re-elected to the Senate to serve until 1953. A member of the Finance, and the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committees of the Senate, Senator Brewster is the chairman of the special committee to investigate the national defense program. This investigation committee, which was once headed by Harry S. Truman, has gained national reputation in investigating abuses and frauds in war contracts. The Senator has been mentioned as a Republican Vice Presidential candidate.

The Democratic Party will be represented by the senior United States Senator from Rhode Island, Theodore Francis Green. Representative Leo Isacson of the American Labor Party will speak for the party of Henry Wallace. The moderator of the discussion will be Dean Myron Law Koenig.

The forum is open to the student body and the general public. Invitations have been sent by the senior class to the colleges, high schools, and private schools in Washington and suburbs inviting their students to witness and to partake in a political debate by national leaders of the major political groups.

Raker Discusses Job Prospects For Engineering

• AT THE APRIL meeting of the A.S.C.E., student papers were presented. Harry Raker won a membership in the Junior section of the Parent Society for his paper on "Engineering Security," in which he discussed the present and future opportunities for engineering employment and the salaries that engineers can expect to earn after various periods of employment.

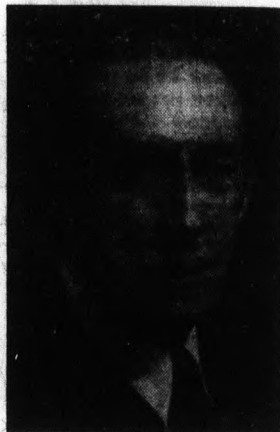

Other seniors who gave papers were:

Harry Balmer, who described the "Triaxial Testing Machine," developed to test the rock cores from the Hoover Dam penstock tunnels; David Colony, who presented an interesting paper on the expected growth in the transportation of freight by air as predicted by several surveys;

Fremont Jewell, who discussed the causes of silting in reservoirs and described the various methods that have been used in an attempt to overcome the resulting damage.

In the Undergraduate division, George Tittington won an award of a Handbook for his talk on the building of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Claude Dimmette also gave a very good paper on the drilling of the tunnels that were used to divert the Colorado River while Boulder Dam was under construction.

Radio Workshop Plans Production For Next Semester

• BROADCASTING for the rest of this term and the laying of groundwork for production next semester were the plans set forth at last week's meeting of the Radio Workshop.

To this end, Ken Folse, of Colonial Enterprises, has loaned his public address system to the group, so that noontime entertainment to the Student Club can be furnished. These broadcasts will feature request programs of popular and semi-classical music conducted by disc-jockeys Stan Berlinsky and Walt Robbins, and a summary of world and campus news.

Workshop President Madeline Smith announces that the University administration has placed the Workshop on a budget under the supervision of the Speech department. New loud-speakers have been obtained and a set of turntables and additional broadcasting equipment are expected soon.

Stan Berlinsky was appointed acting program director for the next three weeks until the election of officers for the summer session.

Students wishing to become members of the Workshop are invited by President Smith to attend the next meeting April 30, in Studio C of Lisner Auditorium, or to stop in at the studio any day Monday through Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. She declares that there will soon be more liberal membership requirements and that a committee has been appointed to amend the constitution in that respect.

Members of the Workshop who wish to be considered active, according to Miss Smith, should also be at the April 30th meeting.

Career Counseling Library Gives Authentic Information On Outside Opportunities

• MANY STUDENTS have been dropping into the Washington Counseling Center these days simply to browse in its Career Library. Others are using the library to get materials for an English theme, a term paper, and even an M. A. thesis. There is a feeling among the counselors at the Center that the smarter the student is, the earlier in his college life he starts to get his occupational information straight from authentic sources.

Students have all sorts of career questions—from the specific income for entrance requirements into the occupation of an actuary to the general question of what the field of an economist really involves.

What are the advantages and disadvantages of law and government administration as career possibilities in government work? What are the training requirements for clinical psychologists as contrasted with psychiatric social workers and with personnel counselors? What is the best way of breaking into advertising and into journalism, and the type of training which employers want? What are the actual duties and a typical day's work of an accountant as contrasted with a statistician and a security analyst?

What are the professional certification requirements for a high school English teacher as contrasted with librarian and other related fields? How does the remuneration of beginning and experienced physicians, bacteriologists, research chemists and biologists compare? Where can I locate the trends in employment opportunities for various fields in business administration and in engineering?

These and many other questions can be answered by consulting the occupational information sources and the counselors at the Counseling Center.

An open-shelf file of hundreds of carefully selected occupational pamphlets are available to you to use in the Center. Recent materials on the trends in salaries and employment opportunities can be consulted. Licensing, certification, and professional requirements for entering professions, businesses, and other fields are available in a special file for the District, Maryland, and Virginia, and for a limited number of fields for all states. Educational directories tell what schools offer chances for specialization, their rating by professional and accrediting bodies, the entrance requirements, cost of education there, and many other key items.

Many students are surprised to find how many fields of specialization are offered at the University; for instance, the medical school is approved and is accredited by the American Medical Association for training for four to six laboratory technicians at a time. Others are surprised to learn that many of the newspapers and news services in the city prefer Liberal Arts graduates, with a major in English and reporting, to graduates of journalism schools.

The University is one of the best schools in the country to major in patent law which requires a pre-law major in engineering or one of the physical sciences. The Department of Psychology and the School of Government have a national reputation for preparing people for psychometrics and personnel work. The School of Education offers many opportunities for specialization which cannot be outlined in the general catalogue. The counselors at the Center, as well as your department heads, can outline a host of other fields of specialization, in case you are interested in a particular field.

The center encourages students to come in and look at the material, but it does not have the facilities to check out occupational and educational information. In case you are unable to locate information here, the counselor will refer you to the large number of special laboratories, professional, and trade agencies that have the information which you may desire.

Cantwell

tee therefore recommended to the Student Council that action be taken which would permit Cantwell's candidacy.

Lew Hoffacker, member of the Qualifications Committee and Activities Director of the Student Council, presented the recommendation to the Student Council Friday, April 19. Cantwell also appeared at the meeting. The Council passed the recommendation on the Student Life Committee whose decision was that Cantwell was not an eligible candidate.

The Student Council met the next day, Saturday, still seeking a way to permit Cantwell to run. A compromise decision was arrived at. Cantwell was told that if he could secure 200 names on a petition, he could exercise the right of initiative and referendum and run as a write-in candidate. He obtained 200 names, and it was announced that Bill Cantwell was a candidate for president of the Student Council.

The following Tuesday, the Student Life Committee met once more and decided that the use of the referendum to permit write-in candidacy of a man not otherwise qualified was illegal. If a candidate was not qualified under Articles IV and VIII, allowing his name to be written in on the ballot would in no way qualify him. Wishing to be certain of the interpretation of Article IX as applying to a candidate not otherwise qualified, the Student Life Committee went to Dean Oppenheim. Upon being advised by Dean Oppenheim that, in his opinion, Article IX was being misused, Dr. Jarman sent a letter to Fremont Jewell in which he advised Jewell of what Dean Oppenheim had said. Dr. Jarman then wrote a personal letter to Bill Cantwell, which said in part:

"I regret sincerely that it is my difficult duty to notify you that you are not eligible to run for the presidency of the Student Council. I am sending you, therefore, a copy of the notice already sent to Mr. Fremont Jewell. I hope you understand that there is nothing personal in this decision. Everyone with whom I talked thought highly of you. You merely do not meet the requirements as laid down by the constitution of the Student Council." (See CANTWELL, Page 12)

Company Representatives To Interview University Students In Job Field

• SEVERAL companies interested in placing students upon graduation are sending representatives to the University today and in succeeding weeks. On campus today, a representative of Minneapolis-Honeywell is talking with engineering students, while the Burroughs Adding Machine Company representative is interviewing students of business administration and accounting.

Students are to see Mrs. Barbara N. Brown in the placement office in Columbian House in order to arrange for interviews with the representatives of the various companies.

Appointments for both summer and permanent jobs are being made with Washington firms for junior and graduate engineers in the fields of mechanical and civil engineering.

Montgomery Ward and Company is sending a representative on Monday, April 26, to talk with students in the field of economics business administration, and accounting.

Prudential Life Insurance Company, The Clary Multiplier Company, and Procter and Gamble, among others, wish to interview people in the above field.

Eastern and American Airlines representatives will interview women who are interested in reservations and stewardess positions. Capital Airlines are training men in the various aspects of airline operation as well as women for stewardess positions.

The Trane Company has openings in the field of heating and ventilating equipment and in sales and research work.

Swift and Company are now making appointments for interviews with students whose job specialties are mechanical engineering, agriculture, business administration, chemistry, home economics, and industrial engineering.

Most of the positions are in the west and midwest. The Continental Oil Company needs people with a background of business administration, engineering, geology, geophysics, and organic chemistry.

Since the representatives sent by the above companies will depend

He further stated that the fraternity expresses no political, social, or cultural affiliations. He said that its membership consists of representatives of nearly every Greek social fraternity on campus, plus an equal number of independents. Delta Phi Epsilon has three Phi Beta Kappas and eight faculty members within its ranks.

upon the number of students registering for the interviews Mrs. Brown urges that everyone who is interested get in touch with her immediately for further information. Interviews for positions in the various fields of interest should be arranged now.

"Beg Your Pardon"

It's RUSS MORGAN'S top Decca Record!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

It's Morgan at his best...sweet swing at its best...in this new Decca platter.

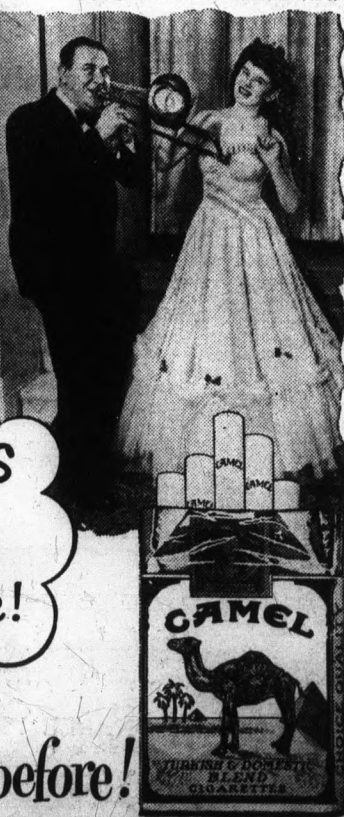

When it comes to cigarettes, Russ says in his typical Morgan Manner, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'."

Millions of smokers agree with Russ about Camels. More people are smoking Camels than ever before.

Try Camels on your "T-Zone"—Find out for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

CAMELS are my favorite cigarette!

And here's another great record—
More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Justice Black Judges Law Competition

● JUSTICE HUGO Black has consented to preside over the final arguments of the Law School's Case Club competition to be held on the evening of April 27 in the Law School building, Stockton Hall. Justice Black will hear arguments from the winners of this spring's competition which included approximately sixty contestants.

Case Club judges chose Bill Bradley, Charles Cutler, Robert Ginfell, and Lars Janson as the top lawyers of the preliminary trials. These winners had argued before judges in trials conducted along appellate court procedure. Each two-member team was required to present a written brief and to give a thirty minute oral argument in support of their view.

The finals find Bradley and Cutler teamed up as counsel for the appellee against Ginfell and Janson, counsel for the appellant. The case to be argued on the 27th deals with the interpretation of the provisions of the Social Security Act as to whether certain truck-owners are "employees" or "independent contractors" within the meaning of the Act. The counsel for the appellee support the "independent contractor" view while the opposing counsel contend that the truckmen are "employees" and should be covered by the Act.

Justice Black has had the opportunity to hear a Supreme Court case on this precise question, in 1946. In that case, United States v. Silk, Justice Black dissented from the majority view which held the truckmen to be independent contractors.

Arrow, Sigma Chi, chairman, Jim Reid.

Showboat, Sigma Nu, chairman, Jack Wiggins; Quick Photo, Independent Students Association, chairman, Ken Folse and Don Leif; and a Rat Race, Kappa Delta, chairman, Jean Honemann.

● WELL, with the beginning of Greek Week, all we members of the feminine sect are living for that wonderful twenty-four-hour period of silence from the males. How wonderful not to have to be attentive to every word he says lest he start to pout!

Everything has simmered down to an almost still silence since Friday night when the election returns came thru. So I put away my Wilkie button until next fall and the next episode of politics once more surges forth over the campus.

You know it's really quite amusing to read over the letters that come in weekly to F.B. The way some people love to say nice things about themselves! The sugar from the sap drips...

It finally came thru about who Wally Oliver pinned. It was one Helen Kaue and the two will be married May 22nd. . . . Susan Sypult, KD, sporting a "sparkler" from Eels Pond, Pi KA. . . . While Marilyn Carter, Pi Phi, has recently become engaged to an Air Corps Major. . . .

ADPI Emily Calloway and Gordon Harris have announced that they will be married come this June 27th. . . . Jack "I'm pinned again" Connolly, Teke, has pinned Peggy Roberts. . . . The week-end saw several of the GW girls heading south to the University of Virginia for the Easter dances. . . .

The Phi Sigs have started serving meals at their abode on New Hampshire Avenue. Some of the KA's are partaking of the meals regularly. . . . Irene Yagge, KD, left in a flurry for New York and the UN for the State Department. . . . The Pi Phi's entertained the PIKA's last Friday evening. . . .

Marty Barnaby, DG, and Ken Calfee of Maryland University are currently appearing in the "real life drama, 'Is This Love?'" . . . Don't ask me, I don't know. . . .

ADPI's Win Cup For Drive

● FOR THE THIRD consecutive year Alpha Delta Pi walked off with the Masonic Club award in the Cherry Blossom Drive. Max Farrington, Director of Men's Activities, presented the silver cup during intermission at the Panhellenic Prom last Thursday. The ADPI's, who, by virtue of three wins, gained possession of one cup in 1946 were thus two legs on the way towards permanent possession of this one. Their individual average sales were $5.02.

Second place this year went to Kappa Kappa Gamma which averaged sales of $2.82 per individual. For their efforts, they were awarded a cup which they will keep for one year.

These three groups together accounted for over one-half of the total $600 turned in. Gene Luther, chairman of the Drive announced.

The proceeds from the Drive, which is held annually by the Masonic Club, will go to the National Masonic League and there be placed in an endowment fund for two Masonic scholarships to the University School of Government.

How To Be A Ringer

By J. XAVIER GILL and GEORGE J. GEORGE

(This is the last in a series of articles designed to help students pass their courses without studying.)

The final, and most important, phase of Ringing—which we call, "Love Thy Professor"—is a direct appeal to the professor's ego. It is important, first, to know the professor's likes and dislikes; these bits of information can be picked up in various ways—from classroom lectures, by standing outside the professor's office door and listening to his conversation, by calling his home and disguising your voice as a Gallup Poll representative to find the newspapers, magazines, and books that he reads. Any method that is workable is acceptable.

This information can be used in many ways. In class, for example, when someone expresses an opinion which you know the professor disagrees with, you should immediately raise your hand, say that you think the statement was perfectly erroneous, then speak vigorously in favor of the ideas you know the professor agrees with.

Another way to use this method is to find out where the professor eats lunch. Then you can sneak into the next booth with friends and say something like the following: "I can hardly wait to get to my next lecture by Dr. —! He's so interesting! You just have to take his course!"

Use of the professor's likes and dislikes have been valuable on exams. This is particularly true in literature courses. Ringers have been known to pass courses without the aid of crib notes simply by denouncing the authors the professor dislikes and praising authors the professor likes. Similarly, in writing courses, you can find out what author the professor likes, then rewrite his old stuff.

A very important part of the "Love Thy Professor" technique is visits to the office. You might as well face it, you can't pass courses without frequent visits to the office. The procedure in visiting the professor's office is to mention what a splendid office it is (commenting that fine offices apparently are given to professors in order of their importance to the university), praise the excellent remarks that the professor made in class that morning, mention how much you've enjoyed any book the professor might have written, chat at some length on how much you like something that you know the professor likes, ask a question you know the professor will enjoy answering, and act enthralled while the professor talks for several hours. Ringers who are financially able may invite the professor to lunch so that he can continue the fascinating discussion.

The good Ringer will, of course, go out for any activities which the professor sponsors. For example, one of the foremost Ringers on campus (a straight A student) is a member of 17 clubs, 12 forums, and 9 committees. Occasionally, special opportunities present themselves. For example, if your professor is in a faculty play, you should attend, laugh whether his jokes are funny or not, applaud until your hands look like two pieces of raw meat, and shout, "Yea! yea! three cheers for Dr. —!" The next day, during the course of your daily visit to the professor's office, you should remark that his performance was the greatest thing since Barrymore's "Hamlet", commenting that he is making a great sacrifice by giving up his stage career for the benefit of his students.

Students should now have a general idea of how the "Love Thy Professor" method works. Remember, the little things count. Such things as asking the professor for his autograph, asking if you could read his master thesis, leaving little complimentary notes scattered around his office, and so on, are always a great aid to any Ringer.

One last point—remember professors celebrate Christmas and other holidays, and have birthdays. Notes, cards, and particularly gifts will always enhance a Ringer's marks.

We hope that we have made you familiar with the basic fundamentals of Ringing, and that your marks will improve accordingly. There is really no need to study. Happy Ringing!

Percival Plays And Sings Folk Songs For Full House

● ANTHONY PERCIVAL, guest artist, entertained a full house at International Student Society, last Friday.

He sang a varied selection of folk songs, while playing the guitar. Among his choice of songs were, "Venezuela," "The Funny Old Man," "Musli Denn," and "The Big Rock Candy Mountain." Other songs were taken from Scottish and American folk songs.

Later in the evening, as more people came in, the audience joined in the singing.

Refreshments, cookies, pastries, and soft drinks were served by Doris Nahn, and Anne Stumm.

• FOR THE second consecutive year, the School of Pharmacy is endeavoring to carry away top honors on a window display for National Pharmacy Week, which is being observed during the week of April 18 to 24.

This year as last year, National Pharmacy Week is devoted to the fight against cancer. The EXers' entry last year won them second prize in the college class. The theme of this display was that one in eight will die of cancer and was symbolized by a cancerous octopus reaching out for its victims.

A committee appointed by the Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association composed of Clyde Whittle, Paul Simon, Hank Singman, Paul Martin, Jack Goldstein, and Bob Rooss has been hard at work on this year's display. The entry consists of a huge microscope flanked on one side by flasks and on the other by test tubes. The theme again is public education in cancer control and emphasizes that cancer can be controlled if promptly diagnosed and treated in its early stages.

The exhibit can be viewed at Keystone Pharmacy at 22nd and Penna. Ave., facing the new University Hospital.

• AT 11:46 P. M. last Sunday an unknown Good Samaritan, seeing smoke billowing from a rear window of Quigley's Drug Store, applied a hand to a fire alarm box. Two minutes later, six engine companies, two truck companies, one rescue squad, two battalion chiefs, one deputy chief, one patrol wagon, two scout cars, ten policemen, one lieutenant, and two hundred spectators arrived. While the ten policemen kept the crowd in bounds, firemen rapidly set up ladders to the third floor and roof as other firemen donned masks to enter the cellar where the fire, it was later learned, had started. The fireman brought the blaze under control in twenty minutes. Neither the damage nor the cause could be determined readily.

Sellout Crowd Gathers Quickly; Many Looking At Wrong Stage

By SMOKY STOVER

• WHAT SURPRISED me the most about the fire at Quigley's, aside from the fact that it's Caplan's, was the sellout crowd that appeared on the scene as quickly as you could say Jack Robinson, who incidentally was at the fire too.

After learning that the fire was in the basement, six firemen rapidly mounted to the roof and immediately set to hacking (and coughing occasionally, also) away uninhibitedly at windows and an occasional head that would appear.

To the sound of gently cascading glass, the mob cheered loudly. A few characters, with five o'clock shadows (Moscow time) were heard to mutter something about "seven cent coffee."

Forty devotees of Professor Kinsey kept looking up at Strong Hall in spite of my telling them the fire was at Quigley's. They answered that the fire was at Caplan's. This also puzzled the firemen (including the twelve on the roof who were hacking away at each other).

In an exclusive interview with two smoke eaters who were eating an open smoke sandwich (a special at $5.98) we learned that the damage was estimated at sixty five Bayer Aspirins and an open bottle of Serutan which a fireman over thirty-five took with him. Ain't nature wonderful!

Cantwell

Council . . . Certainly no one is penalizing in any way athletics at the George Washington University."

Cantwell received this letter last Wednesday night but states that there was no copy of the notice to Jewell received. Acting upon the letter, he withdrew his candidacy.

Upon receiving his letter from Dr. Jarman, Fremont Jewell acted immediately in obtaining the vote of the Council and in rescinding its previous action. He had an announcement prepared in which he gave Dean Oppenheim's opinion as the basis for the Council action, and presented the opinion in the following way:

The articles on initiative and referendum refer only to legislative action of an all-embracing nature and having to do with matters affecting large groups of people in bringing about changes in policy and the constitution.

The announcement also informed the students that Cantwell had withdrawn and gave notice that he would be reimbursed for his campaign expenses.

Friday morning Bill Cantwell called upon Dr. Jarman to discuss the situation. Dr. Jarman took Cantwell to see Dr. Marvin. Cantwell states that Dr. Marvin said that he realized that changes have to be made and that he would appoint Cantwell head of a committee to recommend the changes to the Student Council.

Members of the Student Council say that the only thing that could have prevented the events which have taken place this past week would have been for the Council to delay the election for a couple of weeks and revise the constitution to include sports as a major activity. However, at the time the Council took action in permitting write-in votes, the referendum appeared to be an effective and much quicker way of permitting Cantwell's candidacy.

Council members say that it was not possible to foresee that their action would be considered a misuse of Article IX, and by the time the announcement was made Thursday, elections were already being held; it was then too late for a revision to be made. The only thing to be done was for a new Student Council, recognizing there was a flaw in the constitution, to see that the flaw was corrected in order to prevent occurrences of a like nature in the future.

The Way I See It

By IRA KALFUS

• A BIG SEGMENT of University students got on the Cantwell bandwagon, and all those connected with the Colonial sports scene were thrilled. It's a good sign when loyal student factions recognize a sour element and fight it with an earnest, democratic display. Top-notch athletics are only as good as conscientious students make them. Local D. C. sports scribes were astonished at the principles involved. The decision was so backward, the affair so odious.

Another sizeable group of students also thought they saw the problem. Their action was not so hasty. They believed that a big mistake had been made, nothing more. They were of the opinion that there was no intent on anyone's part to commit a grave injustice. In their interpretation of the University Constitution, an error had been made, but the situation would soon be rectified. Because of the possibility of the above circumstances we might even concede these people a point. But . . . granted this concession, they are still on "thin ice." Though anyone can make a mistake, it takes a person (or people) with lots of "red blood" to admit it.

It is expected that in the next few weeks, the Student Council will propose a constitutional change, stemming from the "Cantwell chapter." Then, all eyes will be focused on the Student Life Committee. If they give the "green light" to passage of this act, the present crisis will be over. The Student Life will be stronger than ever, for it will speak the mind of the students. It will be working with them.

Quite a few people are still dismayed over a noted radio commentator's closing statement last week. "How can we have democracy in the world when a leading University in the Nation's Capital prohibits a Varsity athlete from running for an elective office." Let's clean up this situation fast.

Buff Sailors Score 4th Win; Eye Saturday's Star Regatta

• FAILING TO TOPPLE M.I.T. and Navy Saturday, the Colonials scored their fourth regatta win when they beat Maryland University, Webb Institute of Naval Architecture and the University of Delaware on the Anacostia River Sunday.

The Colonial regulars Jack Smith, Pat Granger and Eric Nordholm were joined by a team trained newcomer, Bill Dodge. Surprising the veterans of the race circuit, Dodge took several seconds and thirds to stand well up in his division.

Although this was not Dodge's first go at intercollegiate competition, his record at this regatta will probably establish him as number four man on the Colonial team.

The Tech combination totaled 169 points in the heavy wind that blew across the Severn River with Navy at 145 points, closely followed by George Washington which scored 142. Maryland and New York Maritime Academy followed with 121 and 70.

Pat Granger who only sailed five races lost high point honors by two points to William Fox, Delaware, who gained 44 points during the eight races. Pat, one of the leading woman skippers in the country, took three firsts and two (See REGATTA, Page 15)

GW Golfers Improve With Each Match

• THE COLONIALS golf team initiated the 1948 season last week by playing three matches. They won one, while dropping two.

The Buff golfers face Virginia and Maryland this week. They meet the Cavaliers, Thursday at Charlottesville, Virginia, and will play host to the Terps the following day.

On Monday at Lexington, the golfers lost to a well balanced Washington and Lee team 8½ to ½. G. W.'s Billy Griffin averted a shutout by shooting a fine 73 to break even with the General's Gordon Sibley.

Against V. M. I. the following day, the Colonials, rallied to chalk up their first win, 5½ to 3½. Billy Griffin and Harry Kettles with a 74 and 76 paced the attack.

On Wednesday, during a terrific downpour at the Kenwood Club, the G. W. golfers gave a highly experienced Georgetown outfit a big scare, before bowing out 5-4. Billy Griffin missed tying the match on the 18th green when his 3 foot side hill putt refused to drop.

TENNIS BULLETIN

• UNIVERSITY NETMEN lost their opening match to Duke, 9-0 and then came back Monday to upset Georgetown, 7-2. They play Virginia, Wednesday at Kenwood and then travel to Virginia to meet W&L and V.M.I.

Buff Nine Break Even; Home and Home Frays With Maryland On Tap

By HERB SCHNIPPER

• GEORGE WASHINGTON'S baseball nine forced Virginia to taste the same bitter pill of a one-run loss that the Colonials had swallowed last week against Quantico. After struggling through four and a half hours of nerve-racking baseball at Quantico on Thursday, only to lose in the fifteenth inning, 10-9, the Zahmen took it out on the Virginians, and beat them by a 6-5 score at the Ellipse Saturday afternoon.

The Colonials meet four opponents in five days this week. The Zahmen travel to Virginia for a two-day trip on Monday and Tuesday, taking on Washington and Lee and V.M.I. The W. and L. Generals have racked up eight wins thus far and figure to be a tough outfit to beat.

BULLETIN

• G.W. lost to W&L in the tenth inning, 13-12. Druckenmiller hit two home runs and Wapinsky one.

On Thursday, G. W. travels to College Park to test the Maryland two-team system. This encounter was moved up to this date, since last week's scheduled game was rained out. The Terps come into town on Friday to meet the Colonials at Griffith Stadium, in the finale of the two-game intra-area set.

The Quantico game started off in the usual G. W. style with the score 6-4, the Colonials on top, after two innings of play. Frank Cavallo had lined one over the left field fence and things were looking good. Prospects of a win looked even brighter after Don Druckenmiller clouted a 400-foot homer with one on in the fifth to make it 8-4. But the Marines got to Gene Gould in the seventh. A couple of singles and two walks forced him to retire in favor of "Bones" Becraft, and before "Bones" could get the side out, the Marines had knotted the count at eight all. Then, followed a beautiful pitching duel between Becraft and Jim Pope, who had taken the mound for Quantico in the sixth. From the eighth through the thirteenth both hurlers worked magnificently under constant pressure, allowing just four singles between them. In the fourteenth, Tony Caruso doubled with two down and Becraft himself got the run in with a single to center. Undaunted, the Marines came back with a run to tie it up, again in their half of the inning.

Then came the fatal fifteenth, Quantico loaded the bases with one out. Kuldell came in from the bullpen to replace the tiring Becraft, who had pitched eight full innings. With the count one and one on him, Ralph Russo laid down a beautiful squeeze bunt and before anyone could get to it, Johnson had raced across the plate with the winning run for the Marines.

But it was a different story on Saturday as G. W. played host to a fine Virginia ball club. Coach Otis Zahn sent Tom Shanks to the (See BASEBALL, Page 15)

Commandos Cop Track Meet; SAE Places 2nd As Ike Stewart Stars

By JULIAN SINGMAN

• THE COMMANDOS, running true to expectations, took the Intramural Track Championship last Saturday afternoon at the Central High School Stadium, racking up an impressive win. Sigma Alpha Epsilon finished second. This year's meet, run efficiently and in record time under the supervision of Joe Krupa, Director of Intramural Activities, saw the participation of a number of teams.

The independent Commando team was merged with the Cindermen a few days before the meet, and the result was a well-organized, proficient group of men that was able to place in every event except the 50 yard dash. They scored a total of 44½ points, well over the 30½ earned by SAE. Kappa Sig and Theta Delt, last year's fraternity champs, tied for third place with 10½ points.

Ike Stewart, of SAE, was individual high point man, scoring 11½ points alone. He won the 50 and 100 yard dashes, and was anchor man on the 880 relay team that took first. That made him not only high scorer, but the only man to have a share in three victories. Participation was limited to two races and a relay or a field event. Awards will be given along with other presentations to be made at a public assembly during the first week of May.

One of the big thrills of the meet came at the end of the half-mile run. Dean Almy, SAE, who had a comfortable lead throughout the race, was beat out in the last ten seconds by John Duncan of the Commandos, who came from way back in an amazing show of home-stretch sprinting.

The roster of teams participating and their scores follow: Commandos—44½; SAE—30½; Kappa Sig—10½; Theta Delt—10½; Kappa Alpha—9; Delta Tau Delta—5; Phi Alpha—5; Sigma Nu—5; Phi Sig—3; Phi KA—3; and 3 points to unorganized Independents.

• GEORGE KUNZ is giving it that extra kick which proves good enough to cop the mile-relay in the time of 4:16.1. Kunz was SAE's anchor man, which was also composed of Doug McIntyre, Ralph Embler and Jim Douglas.

Softball In Final Week; Race Tight

• FRATERNITY SOFTBALL saw keen rivalry between teams in both leagues in last Sunday's games (the half-way mark in the season). All the games were played at the Ellipse.

AEPi's Marcus held Sigma Nu scoreless allowing only one hit while his teammates scored four markers in the first series of games. At the same time, Kappa Sigma steam-rolled Acacia with a 15-2 victory. Kappa Sig's Thorenson held Acacia to 2 hits and two runs, while his teammates were having a field day at the plate.

Phi Alpha took Phi Sigma Kappa with only six hits, to run up nine runs. The Phi Sigs scored three runs on four hits off Harry Shapiro, the Phi A pitcher. SPE lost to KA by an impressive score of 15-3; Argonauts pulverized SAE, 22-2; and Theta Delta Chi beat TEP 14-6 during the first halves of their double-headers.

• BUD FLYNN suffered a compound fracture of his right leg during one of Sunday's Interfraternity Softball games. Flynn, the Kappa Alpha catcher, in an effort to tag out SPE's Dean Bassett took a tough spill, and after further observation was removed to one of the D. C. hospitals.

In their only game of the day, Phi Kappa Alpha, with Ray Roubideaux on the mound, racked up a grand total of 22 tallies and allowed TKE just two runs.

In the second half of the double-header series, Sigma Nu suffered their second defeat of the day when they dropped their game with Kappa Sig by a score of 2-0. Acacia lost their second of the day when AEPi, redeeming themselves for their earlier loss, beat them 11-2.

Phi Alpha's Charlie Goldberg pitched them to their second successive win by knocking off SPE, 11-4, and the KA diamondmen did likewise by polishing off Phi Sig, 9-6, with Orch Bennington pitching. Theta Delta Chi beat SAE, 11-7, and TEP lost to Argonauts 14-1 to finish off the day's activities.

The final games of the season will be played next Sunday in preparation for the playoffs on May 2. The schedule follows:

Phi Sig vs. SPE (7 Innings)
Phi A vs. AEPi (7 Innings)
KA vs. Kappa Sig (7 Innings)
Acacia vs. Sigma Nu (7 Innings)
TEP vs. PIKA
Sigma Chi vs. Argonauts
TKE vs. Theta Delt
Argonauts vs. Theta Delt
Sigma Chi vs. PIKA

Unless otherwise marked, games will be five innings. The single games and first halves of the doubleheaders begin at 10 a. m.

Shorts... On Girls

By BEANIE PEEL

• HOLDING THE TOP INTEREST spot of the week is the Inter-Sorority Swimming Meet, which will be held Wednesday night, April 12, in the YWCA pool. Starting gun for the first race will start promptly at 8 p. m.

The events will include contests in form swimming, racing, and diving. Form events are the breaststroke, backstroke, elementary backstroke, crawl, and sidestroke. Contestants are required to swim only one length of the pool, and will be judged solely on form.

Speed events will be the backstroke, breaststroke, sidestroke, and crawl. Each of these will be for only two lengths of the pool, or forty yards, but there will be one eighty yard free-style race. There will also be several team relays.

The sorority which accumulates the most points will be given credit toward the Pan-Hellenic Cup, awarded annually to the top sorority on campus. Sorority girls are eligible to participate in the All-University Swim which will be held the following week, but may not enter as a team.

ALL-UNIVERSITY SWIM

• The All-University Swimming Meet will be held Wednesday night, April 28, at the YWCA pool. All women who wish to compete are urged to register at once, and to get in the required six practice periods. Registration lists are posted in Buildings H, J, and L.

Events will be similar to those in the Inter-Sorority Meet, except that there will be no team competition. Each entrant may compete in only four events.

All participants in the meet will be given seventy-five points toward the WRA athletic letter. The four girls who place highest will automatically be named to the varsity swimming team, and will receive two hundred points.

COLONIALS IN PENNSYLVANIA PLAYDAY

• TWELVE UNIVERSITY girls travelled to Chambersburg, Pa., last Saturday afternoon to participate in the recently inaugurated Wilson College Playday. Sportswomen from Hood, Goucher, and Wilson College and Penn Hall Junior College mixed with the University girls to participate in archery, riding, softball, swimming, and tennis.

Individual star of the day was Rhoda Downs, the Colonial tennis representative. After the games, the girls were served dinner and treated to a preview of the annual Wilson Aquacade.

second places while she was at the helm.

Next weekend will feature a Star Boat regatta against Navy and Maryland at Annapolis Saturday. Navy will be anxious for a comeback against Maryland which beat them two weekends ago, and the Colonials will be eager to draw blood in their first venture into intercollegiate Star Class racing.

Returning home Sunday, the team will face Syracuse, Lehigh and Delaware in a race for a berth in the Middle Atlantic Associate Championships at King's Point.

Next Batter, Wapinsky, Is Music To GW Ears

By HERB SCHNIFFER

• THIS SEASON the guy that everyone's talking about in George Washington baseball circles is Joe Wapinsky, the Colonials' number one catcher and man with the bat.

Although this is Joe's first year with the G. W. baseball nine, his name is familiar to followers of the school's '47 grid team on which Wapinsky played first string ball in the blocking back slot. After hanging up his shoulder pads and helmet at the close of the season, Joe tried on the mask and mitt, and came out for Spring baseball practice this year.

Coach Zahn was immediately impressed with Wapinsky's abilities at the plate, but couldn't decide where to use him defensively. He already had a fine receiver in Don Druckenmiller. Zahn tried him in right field for awhile during the early workouts; but when "Otts" decided to shift Druckenmiller to first base, Wapinsky moved behind the plate, a position with which he is far more familiar.

Joe hails from St. Clair, Pennsylvania, where he caught a full four years of high school ball, batting over .500 his last two seasons. He came to G. W. on a football scholarship after a stint in the service. Only 22 years old, Joe stands 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. With his catcher's gear on, he looks like a natural in the catching position, blocking every pitch in a large radius of the plate, his strong right arm always a nemesis to enemy base runners.

But it is in the batter's box that Joe is gaining an even greater reputation than his noted defensive ability. Zahn is using Wapinsky in the clean up slot due to the big guy's tremendous power. In six games to date, four of his eleven hits have been for extra bases, including one homer, and two triples. Always a threat to hit one out of the park, he is the core of G. W.'s murder's row of King, Wapinsky, Druckenmiller, and F. Cavallo.

It's a little early to judge the season, but it figures that Joe Wapinsky will be the big gun in the dynamite packed George Washington lineup. With 13 games left to be played this Spring, there'll be a great number of enemy pitchers who'll wish they'd never had to face this boy. And there should be a few big league scouts who'll be mighty happy to have had the chance to look over this great natural ballplayer—Joe Wapinsky.

Baseball

mound and he was opposed by Virginia's right hander, Buddy Charles. The two boys put on a beautiful exhibition of pitching skill for five innings. Shanks scattered three singles in that time, while the best the Colonials could do was a scratch hit by Citrenbaum in the third. The Virginians, however, combined a walk, two singles, and a long fly to left for two runs in the sixth. Back came the Colonials in the seventh to score three runs on singles by Joe Wapinsky and Frank Cavallo, two walks, and a two out, two run single by Bunny Citrenbaum.

With Andy Kuldell, who had batted for Shanks, on the mound in the eighth, Virginia slapped back with three runs of their own to make it 5-3. Before the smiles on the faces of the Colonial fans could turn to frowns, G. W. came up with the runs that meant the ball game in their half of the eighth. Pete King worked Charles for a walk, and Neil Wade took the hill for Virginia. Joe Wapinsky greeted Wade with a rousing clout that landed in deep left-center field. King scored easily, and when the relay was juggled in short center field, third base coach Krichorian waved Wapinsky home with the tying run. After two were out, Al Chernitsky and Guy Cavallo drew walks. When Curly Kuldell's high pop fly was dropped by Jim Patton at short, big Al came in with the deciding marker to make it 6-5. Kuldell preserved the one run margin in the ninth to chalk up his second win of the season.
